So this would be the "sky tiltle panel" which cuts across all three sides. It will be a blend of sky to ocean at the top where clouds will read as sea foam at the top to blend into the ceiling easter egg. Also we can hide the Creepshow zombie host in the far left (closest to the window), which would be only seen if you look for him.

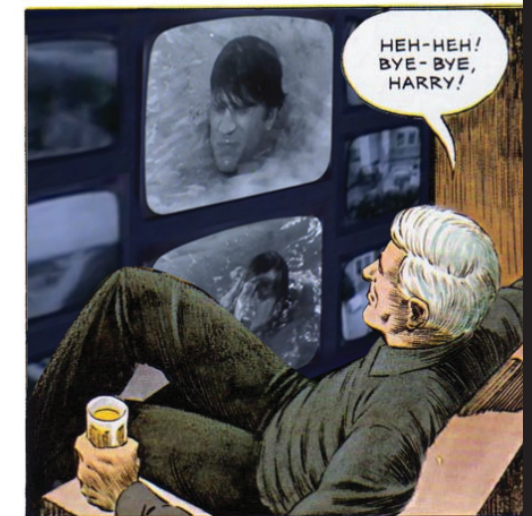

This panel will probably be a single one with the wide shot establishing the Richard and Harry's positions and the dialogue will reference the affair with Becky.

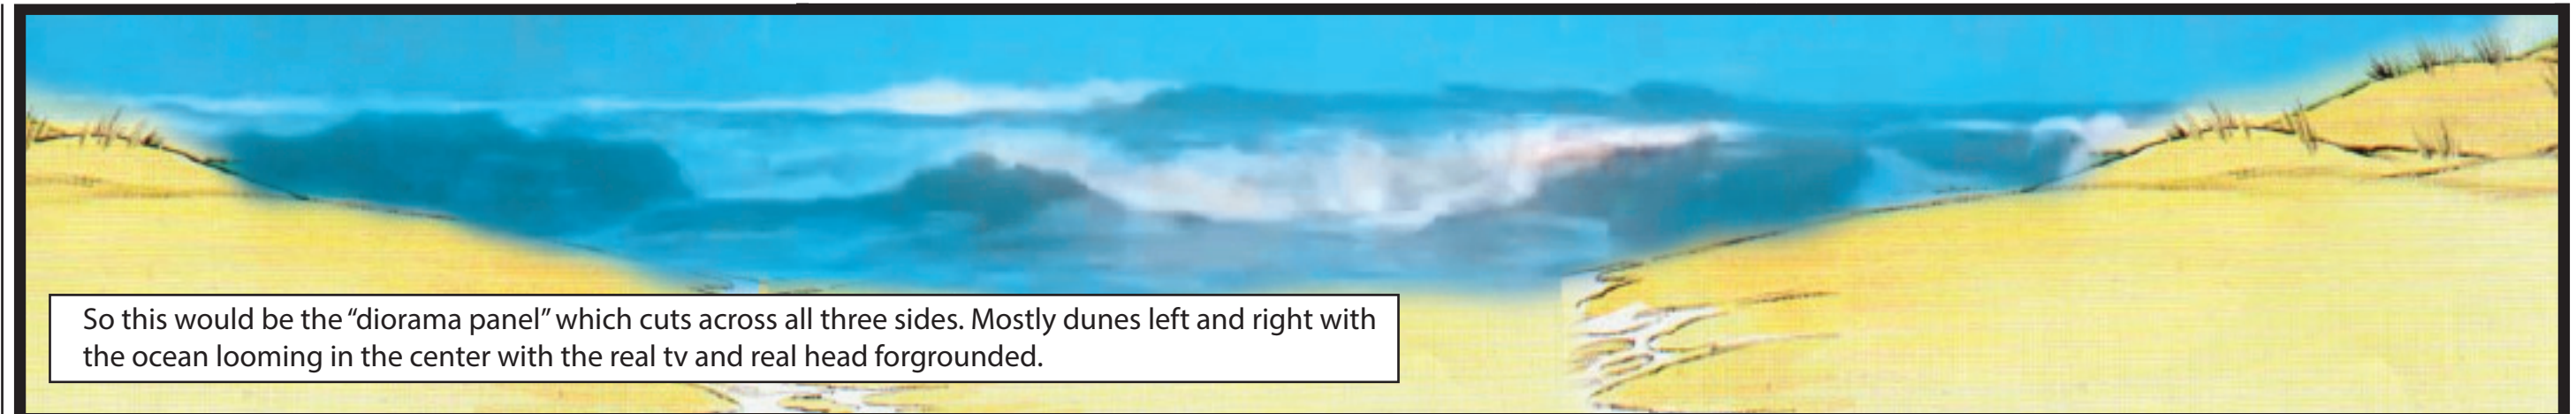

This would probably be multiple panels that showcase Richard's love of video and the torture of Harry.

I think this could be a single panel that is something like this with Richard watching Becky and Harry die. And the dialogue could include Harry vow for vengeance.
